Step 4: Does your household income qualify for WIC?

Are you, or a family member, enrolled in any of these programs right now? Choose all that apply:

- Medicaid/CHIP
- Minnesota Care
- Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP)
- Minnesota Family Investment Program (MFIP)
- Energy Assistance Program (EAP)
- Head Start
- Free or Reduced Price School Lunch
- Temporary Assistance to Needy Families (TANF) or Food stamp (only the person receiving these benefits would be eligible for the WIC Program)
- None of the above

To receive WIC services, your household income must meet the WIC guidelines. WIC uses the number of people in your household and your household's gross income (before taxes are taken out)

A household includes all people who live together and share income and household expenses (bills, food, etc.). WIC counts a pregnant woman as two household members.
